This is the first season in almost a decade in which the Mimes and Mummers have produced plays exclusively on their own resources. These productions would not have been possible without the continued support of the Faculty and Students of Fordham, or without the patronage of friends who have been so loyal to the efforts put forth in Collins Auditorium. For this the Moderator, the Officers, and the members of the Mimes and Mummers are truly grateful. We hope, too, that you have enjoyed yourselves.
